

Test: III-11 ENG III-11th YEAR OF STUDY

Points: 50 points

Name: _____

Score: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____

Select multiple choice answers with a cross or tick:

Only select one answer

Can select multiple answers

Question 1 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

1. Can I try on these jeans, please?

-
- A) Sure. The cabinets are over there.
- B) Sure. The changing cabin are over there.
- C) Sure. The changing rooms are over there.
- D) Sure. The closets are over there.

Question 2 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

2. What do I do with this form?

-
- A) Stop complaining! You look great!
- B) Stop complaining! Your form is excellent!
- C) Find it out and give it to the receptionist.
- D) Fill it in and give it to the receptionist.

Question 3 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

3. Please, don't tell anybody. It's a secret.

- A) Don't worry. We won't say anyone.
- B) Don't worry. We won't tell anybody.
- C) Don't worry. We are not telling anything.
- D) Don't worry. It's my secret.

Question 4 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

4. They need to modernize the way they work.

- A) That's true. Some of their business practices are very old.
- B) That's true. Some of their business practices are very old-fashioned.
- C) That's true. Some of their business practices are very modest.
- D) That's true. Some of their business practices are very easy-going.

Question 5 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

5. Do you like Susan?

- A) Like her? I am crazy about her!
- B) Like her? I am keen to her!
- C) Like her? She is like me.
- D) Like her? I am mad over her!

Question 6 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

6. Why are you wearing your old clothes?

- A) Because I will clean the house.
- B) Because I'm going to clean the house.
- C) Because I would clean the house.
- D) Because I am to clean the house.

Question 7 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

7. You can't be hungry.

-
- A) There's no food.
- B) We've just had lunch.
- C) There's no juice.
- D) We had lunch yesterday.

Question 8 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

8. Thank you very much indeed.

-
- A) My pleasure. Don't mention it.
- B) My pleasure. Don't say it.
- C) My pleasure. Don't tell it.
- D) My pleasure. It's fine.

Question 9 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

9. What's your teacher like?

-
- A) She's got black hair and blue eyes.
- B) She is great! She helps us a lot.
- C) She likes her job.
- D) She likes chocolate.

Question 10 of 50

1 pt

Complete the exchanges. For questions choose A, B, C or D. Mark the answers.
Dovršite dijalog. Za pitanja izaberite odgovor A, B, C ili D.

10. What about meeting up some time this weekend?

-
- A) I am busy this morning.
- B) Sure, it's OK.
- C) Sure, that sounds good.
- D) I get up early this weekend.

Question 11 of 50

1 pt

What does the picture say? For questions mark the answers A, B, C or D.
Šta je na slici? Za pitanja označite odgovor.

11.

- A) Don't look at the window.
- B) Don't lean out of the window.
- C) Don't open the door.
- D) Don't stand up.

Question 12 of 50

1 pt

What does the picture say? For questions mark the answers A, B, C or D.
Šta je na slici? Za pitanja označite odgovor.

12.

- A) Be careful of your head.
- B) You must wash your head here.
- C) Ask people to watch your head.
- D) Caution your head here.

Question 13 of 50

1 pt

What does the picture say? For questions mark the answers A, B, C or D.
Šta je na slici? Za pitanja označite odgovor.

13.

-
- A) Winding road.
 - B) Sharp turns.
 - C) Slippery when wet.
 - D) Soft shoulder

Question 14 of 50

1 pt

What does the picture say? For questions mark the answers A, B, C or D.
Šta je na slici? Za pitanja označite odgovor.

14.

-
- A) Anyone can park here
 - B) You can park your car if you are a guest of the hotel
 - C) You can park here if you visit the hotel next summer
 - D) You cannot park here

Question 15 of 50

1 pt

What does the picture say? For questions mark the answers A, B, C or D.
Šta je na slici? Za pitanja označite odgovor.

15.

-
- A) Slippery road
 - B) Winding road
 - C) Bumpy road
 - D) Steep slope

Question 16 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

16. What's _____ TV tonight?

-
- A) In
 - B) On
 - C) At
 - D) From

Question 17 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

17. Lets' go outside, _____?

-
- A) Shall we
 - B) Will you
 - C) Should we
 - D) Shouldn't we

Question 18 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

18. I enjoy _____ in the rain.

- A) Walking
 B) To walk
 C) Walk
 D) Am walking

Question 19 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

19. If I _____ rich, I'd live in a big house.

- A) Was
 B) Will be
 C) Were
 D) Am

Question 20 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

20. A famous painter, _____ home is in New York, opened the new gallery.

- A) That
 B) Whose
 C) Who
 D) Who's

Question 21 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

21. In the past, the series _____ on TV twice a week, but that's not the case now.

- A) Is
 B) Have been
 C) Used to be
 D) Will be

Question 22 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

22. I'm hot because I _____.

- A) Ran
- B) Have run
- C) Running
- D) Have been running

Question 23 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

23. Lisa gave me a lift because I _____ the bus.

- A) Missed
- B) Had missed
- C) Has missed
- D) Am missing

Question 24 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

24. Could you _____ me your pen?

- A) Lend
- B) Borrow
- C) Lent
- D) Land

Question 25 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

25. He _____ German and English.

- A) Speak
- B) Speaks
- C) Spoke
- D) Is speaking

Question 26 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

26. I'm cold. I _____ the heating on.

- A) Am going to put
- B) Will put
- C) Am putting
- D) Will be putting

Question 27 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

27. I'm tired. –You _____ go to bed.

- A) Should
- B) Shouldn't
- C) Have to
- D) Don't have to

Question 28 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

28. I managed _____ smoking.

- A) To give up
- B) Giving up
- C) To give
- D) Give up

Question 29 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

29. The houses _____ last year.

- A) Built
- B) Was built
- C) Were building
- D) Were built

Question 30 of 50

1 pt

Choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

30. How long have you _____ that letter?

- A) Written
- B) Writing
- C) Been
- D) Been writing

Question 31 of 50

1 pt

For questions choose the correct word with the correct spelling.
Za pitanja izaberite odgovarajucu reč ispravno napisanu.

31. The Sahara is a _____ located on the African continent.

- A) Desert
- B) Dessert
- C) Deesert
- D) Deserted

Question 32 of 50

1 pt

For questions choose the correct word with the correct spelling.
Za pitanja izaberite odgovarajucu reč ispravno napisanu.

32. Don't go _____ this tunnel. It's dark in there.

- A) Through
- B) Though
- C) Thought
- D) Thorough

Question 33 of 50

1 pt

For questions choose the correct word with the correct spelling.
Za pitanja izaberite odgovarajucu reč ispravno napisanu.

33. Tom speaks two _____ languages.

- A) Foregin
- B) Forein
- C) Foreign
- D) Foreing

Question 34 of 50

1 pt

For questions choose the correct word with the correct spelling.
Za pitanja izaberite odgovarajucu reč ispravno napisanu.

34. She _____ didn't expect the decision to be so hard.

- A) Definetely
- B) Definitely
- C) Definatly
- D) Definite

Question 35 of 50

1 pt

For questions choose the correct word with the correct spelling.
Za pitanja izaberite odgovarajucu reč ispravno napisanu.

35. It's like I was in this _____ dream.

- A) Weird
- B) Wierd
- C) Weerd
- D) Werid

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

36. Things we cannot control that affect our level of happiness are _____.

-
- A) the number of volunteer positions we have
 - B) the number and quality of relationships we have
 - C) our genes
 - D) our choices

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

37. What would the author think is not a way of caring for the well-being of others?

-
- A) practicing yoga or meditation
 - B) volunteering at a home for old people
 - C) giving advice to a friend who has marriage problems
 - D) giving advice to your brother

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

38. The writer probably believes that _____ can help someone experiencing depression.

-
- A) learning to make art
 - B) learning to play the piano or guitar
 - C) starting an exercise program
 - D) going for a walk

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

39. Why doesn't the brain remember positive experiences as much as negative ones?

-
- A) Our ancestors didn't understand what made them happy
 - B) Positive experiences were not as important for the survival of our ancestors as negative ones.
 - C) Positive experiences like having food and shelter were necessary for the survival of our ancestors.
 - D) We enjoy in negative experiences more

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

40. What is not part of being mindful?

- A) focusing on this moment
- B) enjoying the memory of a past experience
- C) taking pleasure in what you are doing at this time
- D) Being thankful

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

41. What is part of thinking positively?

- A) feeling bad about decisions we have made
- B) wishing that we could change the past
- C) appreciating what we have
- D) feeling regret

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

42. How does the author explain spirituality?

- A) It is a way of making new friends
- B) It is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of life
- C) It is a way or recognizing the need to protect and preserve the beauty of nature
- D) It is a way of making enemies

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

43. According to the reading, people are in a state of flow when

_____.

-
- A) we feel the need to help others
 - B) people include spirituality in their daily lives
 - C) time seems to pass very quickly
 - D) they do nothing

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

44. What is not mentioned in the reading as being part of a quality relationship?

-
- A) enthusiasm
 - B) sharing of feelings
 - C) mutual respect
 - D) trust

Read the text. Based on the information from the text choose the correct answer and circle the letter in front of it:

The human brain remembers negative experiences more easily than positive ones. Our brains have developed this way because threats, like dangerous animals, had a more immediate effect on our ancestors' survival compared to positive things like food or shelter. As a result, you likely know what makes you unhappy, but do you know what makes you happy?

Research suggests that our level of happiness depends partly on factors we cannot control – our genes and our life circumstances. But our level of happiness is also shaped by the choices we make. If you've been chasing wealth, fame, good looks, material things, and power, you may be looking for happiness in all the wrong places. Psychologists suggest that the following seven habits make people happier.

People who form close relationships tend to be happier than those who do not. The number of friends we have is not important. What matters is the quality of our relationships. Relationships that bring happiness usually involve the sharing of feelings, mutual respect, acceptance, trust, fun and empathy.

People who make a habit of caring for the wellbeing of others tend to be happier. This might involve volunteering for an organization or reaching out to support friends and family on a regular basis.

People who exercise regularly improve both their physical and mental well-being. Some research has shown that exercise can be as effective as medication in treating depression.

When we are so interested in an activity we enjoy that we lose track of time, we are in a state of flow. The activity could be making art, playing piano, surfing, or playing a game. People who experience flow in their work or hobbies tend to be happier.

People who include spirituality in their daily life tend to be happier. Practicing spirituality is a way of recognizing and trying to understand the wonder and beauty of existence. Some people do this by going to a place of worship or praying. Some people practice yoga or meditation. Some people go for long walks in nature.

People are more likely to be happy if they know what their strengths are and use them regularly. People who set goals and use their strengths to achieve them tend to be happier. People are especially happy when they can use their strengths to serve the greater good.

People who think positively by being grateful, mindful, and optimistic are more likely to be happy. Being mindful means being open to, focusing on, and enjoying the experiences of the present moment. Being optimistic means being hopeful about the future.

45. What is not given as a way people can include spirituality in their daily lives?

-
- A) taking long walks in nature
 - B) going to a place of worship
 - C) getting regular exercise
 - D) practice yoga

Look at the advertisement and answer the questions:

TELEVISION HOST

A national TV station wants to find two people to host a new game show. Interested?

You need to have

- a confident personality
- some experience of working in the media industry
- excellent communication skills
- a passion for performing
- 40, 000$ per year
- Be famous!

46. They are looking for

- A) A famous person
- B) A TV host
- C) An actor
- D) Two TV hosts

Look at the advertisement and answer the questions:

TELEVISION HOST

A national TV station wants to find two people to host a new game show. Interested?

You need to have

- a confident personality
- some experience of working in the media industry
- excellent communication skills
- a passion for performing
- 40, 000$ per year
- Be famous!

47. You don't need

- A) Travel experience
- B) Good communication skills
- C) Any experience
- D) To be passionate

Look at the advertisement and answer the questions:

TELEVISION HOST

A national TV station wants to find two people to host a new game show. Interested?

You need to have

- a confident personality
 - some experience of working in the media industry
 - excellent communication skills
 - a passion for performing
- 40, 000$ per year
Be famous!

48. If you get the job, you will

-
- A) Host a TV show
 - B) Host a game show
 - C) Work alone
 - D) Work in an office

Look at the advertisement and answer the questions:

TELEVISION HOST

A national TV station wants to find two people to host a new game show. Interested?

You need to have

- a confident personality
 - some experience of working in the media industry
 - excellent communication skills
 - a passion for performing
- 40, 000$ per year
Be famous!

49. If you want the job, you must be

-
- A) Smart
 - B) Unreliable
 - C) Self-confident
 - D) Busy

Look at the advertisement and answer the questions:

TELEVISION HOST

A national TV station wants to find two people to host a new game show. Interested?

You need to have

- a confident personality
 - some experience of working in the media industry
 - excellent communication skills
 - a passion for performing
- 40, 000$ per year
Be famous!

50. If you accept the job, you will be

- A) Well-known
- B) Often busy
- C) Optimistic
- D) Hosted by many people

